

Junior journalist/researcher wanted for expanding media company and consultancy, Milan

TopLegal, the market-leading media company and consultancy for the Italian legal industry, is seeking a junior-level Journalist and/or Researcher.

TopLegal's print and digital media provides news, features and in-depth research aimed at commercial law firms and their corporate clients. We have a reputation for innovation and excellence based on over 15 years of know-how.

The successful candidate will join the Toplegal Newsroom and Research Centre based in Milan. He/she will have the chance to work with Italy's top business lawyers, in-house counsel, business leaders, and investors.

The ideal candidate will have most or all of the following:

- 1-2 years' experience of business journalism / PR and communications in the legal sector
- a legal training or background
- knowledge of finance and economic affairs
- proficiency in English

In addition to a team player with excellent communication and interpersonal skills, we are looking for a confident, dynamic and results-oriented individual with ambition and intellectual curiosity.

TopLegal is committed to equal opportunities and an inclusive environment for all our employees.

Prospective candidates should send a concise curriculum to recruitment@toplegal.it along with a statement of no more than 500 words explaining why they should be considered for the post.